WASHINGTON.

The President Passes a Feverish Night,

But is Better in the Forenoon.

The Surgeons Declare he is Progressing Favorably.

BULLETIN.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, August 13. The president did not sleep as well as usual during the early part of the night. After midnight, however, his sleep was refreshing and only broken at long intervals. This morning he has a little fever, but nevertheless expresses himself as feeling better than for several days past. Pulse 104, temperature 100.8, respiration 19.

BULLETIN.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, August 13, 12:30 a. m.—The president has been cheerful and easy during the morning and his temperature has fallen a little more than a degree and a half since the morning bulletin was issued. The wound is discharging a healthy pus. Pulse now 102; temperature, 98.2-10; respiration, 18.

BULLETIN.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, August 13.—6.30 p. m.—Since the last bulletin the president has continued to do well. The afternoon fever has been half a degree less than yesterday. At the evening dressing the appearance of the wound was improved. The discharge of pus has been adequate and its character is healthy. At present his pulse is 104, temperature 100.7, respiration 19.

UNOFFICIAL BULLETIN.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, August 13, 4.30 p. m.—The president's condition continues favorable. Attending surgeons themselves are greatly encouraged by the decrease in pulse and temperature since 12.30 p. m. No fears are entertained by them regarding the prospects of the patient. He has taken his usual quantity of nourishment during the day, and is now sleeping quietly and naturally. Pulse and temperature have been taken during the two last hours, but they are not considered any higher now than when the last unofficial bulletin was sent. Pulse about 100, temperature about 99.

BULLETIN AT NOON.

WASHINGTON, August 13.—The midday bulletin gives the president's pulse as 102, temperature 99.2, respiration 18. This is a most favorable showing indeed considering the fever this morning. The decline of the fever after the washing out of the wound at the morning dressing sustains the surgeons in the belief that the little unfavorable turn this morning was caused by a retention of the pus which was not washed out last evening. Everything looks favorable.

SENSATIONAL RUMORS IN WASHINGTON.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, 2:30 p. m., Aug. 13.—Many alarming rumors have been circulated during the day regarding the president's condition some of which indicated it was almost impossible for him to live more than a day or two longer. From information however there appears to be no cause for alarm. The fever indicated by the morning bulletin has been gradually subsiding and the patient at this hour is very comfortable. Private Secretary Brown says the president is decidedly better at the present than he has been during the past forty-eight hours and that the fever apparently continues to decrease. To-day is extremely oppressive but the president's apartments are kept comfortable.

General Swain has just said that the president rests better now than he did at the same time yesterday. His pulse is now below 100 and temperature about 99 according to the surgeons and attendants.

UNEASINESS FELT IN WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, August 13.—The announcement of the bulletin this morning that the president has fever, gave rise to another general feeling of uneasiness throughout the city. It was evident however that the feeling was not shared by the surgeons and attendants of the president. Doctor Bliss went to the White House this morning and said there was no cause for alarm in the president's condition. The doctors had not counted on the president getting well right along without any more unfavorable changes; the case would fluctuate and the fever this morning was only one of these fluctuations which might be expected until the president gets on his feet. The surgeons say the fever this morning and restlessness last night were caused by the retarded pus. They had taken out the drainage tube to let the walls of the wound collapse and heal and that in washing the wound out last night some little injury was done, not thoroughly cleaned, and the retention of the small pus caused the rise in temperature. The presence of even a thimble full of pus in a wound will cause fever. The wound was thoroughly cleansed this morning, and the fever at once subsided. The president certainly will be better to morrow. Colonel Rockwell, who sat up with the president last night, said to a reporter at noon: "The president was doing well. The retention of a small quantity of pus had caused a rise of fever, but the washing of the wound at once relieved this, and the pulse receded immediately to 109, and the temperature to 99. The president expressed himself this morning as feeling first rate, and that he borrowed his (Rockwell's) eye-glasses, read the headings in the daily papers, and commented upon them. To-day Dr. Agnew was telegraphed for, but the president's surgeons say it was not because he is especially wanted, but to know when it would be convenient for him to come, as Dr. Hamilton wants to leave.

THE PRESIDENT'S CASE REVIEWED.

WASHINGTON, August 13.—Sunday morning, July 3d, the day after the president was shot; pulse was 124, temperature normal, respiration 18. July 4th, the second day, his pulse was 108, temperature 98.4, respiration 19. July 5th, pulse 114, temperature 100.5 respiration 24. Sunday morning, July 10th, his pulse was 106, temperature 100, respiration 23. From the latter date till Wednesday August 10th, pulse and temperature given immediately after the morning dressing had not exceeded 100, the figures on the 10th inst. being, pulse 104, temperature 98.5, respiration 19. The patient's pulse as shown by this morning's bulletins, 104, has therefore only been exceeded at the hour of morning dressing on four occasions, July 3d, 4th and 10th. The temperature shown by this morning's bulletin has been exceeded but twice according to the bulletins since the shooting occurred. These exceptions being at 10 a. m., July 23d and 24th. The morning following the rigor, at which time extra official bulletins were issued by the surgeons, indicated pulse 110, temperature 101, respiration 24. The explanation of the indication of fever as shown by this morning's official bulletin, Dr. Bliss said was due to a slight retention in the flow of pus from the lower track of the wound and that it will in all probability pass off in an hour or so.

After the morning dressing the president expressed himself as feeling better and had ordered breakfast brought in. There is no little uneasiness felt, however, by the general public on account of the president's high pulse as noted in this morning's bulletin.

DR. BLISS DETAILS.

Regarding his own condition Dr. Bliss said he had been quite sick last night but had taken considerable medicine which had acted favorably and that he felt much better this morning.

CERTAIN QUESTIONS.

Proposed by General Elmer of the Postal Department.—The Assistant Attorney's Answers.

WASHINGTON, August 13.—Second Assistant Postmaster General Elmer, who is considering the propriety of restoring the original schedules on a number of expedited mail routes recently submitted the following questions to Judge Freeman, assistant attorney general for the postoffice department for an opinion and advice.

First. "Does ordering the expedition of a route constitute a new contract?"

Second. "Has the department a right to order the restoration of an original schedule on any expedited route when the cost of the expedition is not warranted by revenues, offices supplied, or when from any other cause it is deemed for the good of the service so to do?"

Third. "Is the department warranted in withholding allowances of one month's extra pay or amount deducted from the pay of contractors for such increase of running time, if so, under what circumstances may such indemnity be withheld?"

Judge Freeman in his opinion held that under the laws existing prior to the passage of the act of 1880 the postmaster general was not authorized to increase or expedite contracts, except for causes appearing subsequently to the execution of the original contract. That it was subsequently the duty of the postmaster general to advertise all service to let and that another, lessening or increasing service without causes arising or being made to appear after advertisement and letting of original service was void. That were such orders to have been procured by fraudulent representations or statements and had payments been thereunder it is the duty of the postmaster general to bring suit for recovery of such payments.

Second. He further holds that under the law the postmaster-general has not been authorized to expedite or increase the service beyond 100 per cent. of the original amount. The statute provides that additional compensation shall bear no greater proportion to additional stock and carriers necessarily employed in its execution. Under this language he holds that while the postmaster-general might under the circumstances already stated allow a very large proportion of the original contract price he was not authorized to multiply the amount.

Third. That advertising acts require the postmaster-general to advertise, not a portion, but all the service to be let, and that if after making the contract he should discover that the public good requires double, triple or quadruple service it would be his duty to annul the contract and readvertise.

Fourth. That where orders for expedition have been improperly made he should annul them without one month's extra pay.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Bradlaugh Suffers from Erysipelas and Leaves London.

Bolivia Still Determined to Fight Chili.

The Pall Mall Gazette Advises the Lords.

THE TIMES ON THE SITUATION.

LONDON, August 13.—The Times this morning editorially commenting on the refusal of the house of lords to recede from its amendments to the land bill, regards a settlement of the questions at issue as likely to follow the formal conference of the party leaders, notwithstanding the different attitude of Lord Salisbury. The writer declares that the ministry is supported as it is by a compact. The majority in the commons cannot be expected to yield, and that in the event of the house being unable to give effect to its policy the ministry would have to resign. Salisbury would be summoned to undertake forming a new ministry. He would be compelled to dissolve parliament in the hope of an overthrowing of the liberal majority in the commons. It is suggested that even bolder men than Salisbury might shrink from such an undertaking.

BRADLAUGH'S ILLNESS.

LONDON, August 13.—Bradlaugh's erysipelas has further increased. He will leave town to-day by the order of his doctors.

BOLIVIA AFTER CHILI.

LONDON, August 13.—Advices from Rio Janeiro of the 29th ult., state that a dispatch from Lapaz, Bolivia, announces that the Bolivian convention has decided to continue the war against Chili.

A FALL IN VIENNA.

VIENNA, August 13.—An old building, four stories high, situated in the most frequented part of the city, next to the Graben, suddenly fell to-day. A greater part of the house was occupied by offices and fashionable shops. Twenty lives were lost and thirty persons were seriously injured.

THE ELECTRICAL EXHIBITION.

PARIS, August 13.—There was great commotion in the Electrical exhibition last night. Having succeeded in obtaining the necessary injunction from the Paris tribunal, Edison's agent made a seizure of the Maxim lamps in the exhibition. The lamps and apparatus were held up for a time, and the quarrel will next week be brought before the courts. Maxim's representatives resisted the seizure and appealed to Berg for protection, but without success.

ADVISING THE LORDS.

LONDON, August 13.—The Pall Mall Gazette says: The situation is serious, and we might even say dangerous, but that it is difficult to credit the peers with sufficient folly to persist in precipitating a constitutional crisis. If they persist in resolute hostility the whole work of the session will be sacrificed. Ireland will be convulsed with civil war and agitation will be started in favor of a revision of the constitution which will have stranger consequences than they probably imagine.

Commenting on the remarks that have been published concerning the lack of signs of a popular indignation at the action of the lords the Gazette then proceeds to favor a monster mass meeting to teach the peers the public opinion. Dillon writes from Dublin that he is unable to undergo the exertion of appearing in his seat in the commons the present session.

A CANADIAN ACCIDENT.

A Grand Trunk Railway Train is Thrown From the Track---A Cow the Cause. --Miraculous Escape of the Passengers.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., August 13.—A terrible accident on the Grand Trunk railway this morning which resulted in the instant death of the engineer and serious wounding of the fireman. The baggagemaster, two express messengers and various passengers were injured.

The train was the ten p. m. express from Montreal to Toronto and consisted of six Pullman sleepers, four first and second class coaches, postal, express and baggage car. The coaches were filled with returning excursionists from Montreal who were nearly all asleep. After leaving Prescott and while at full speed an obstruction was encountered and the locomotive jumped the rail carrying the tender, baggage, mail, express, smoking and two passenger cars with it. The cars were scattered in every direction and pieces of wood and iron strewed the track for rods around the scene. The escape of so many passengers is wonderful as the express car and some passengers were smashed to splinters. The cause of the accident was a cow on the track.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., August 13.—The express from Montreal ran off the track two miles west of Prescott this morning. The driver, Joe Howarth, was instantly killed, and it is reported that the express messenger and the baggageman are in a dying condition. Cause, an obstruction on the track.

NEW MEXICO.

Hostile Indians Again Murdering and Plundering---Serious Accident on the A., T. & S. F. Road---A Bridge Breaks and Causes Loss of Life.

LAS VEGAS, N. M., August 13.—The following special from Socorro to the Gazette was received this evening: A party of quarrymen, who were at a fort about eight miles south of this place, were fired upon by the Indians about 7 o'clock this morning. Three or four volleys were fired by the Indians, and one man was seen to fall by the spectators, who were looking on from a distance. As soon as a posse could be gathered together they started for the scene of butchery. Upon arriving at the quarry three men were found killed, the balance making good their escape. The names of the parties killed are Van Epps, English and Herman. Their bodies were brought to this city about 3 o'clock this afternoon, and were placed in the court house, where they still remain. Their pockets were rifled by the Indians. Two parties of well armed and mounted citizens have started in pursuit of the red devils.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

A fatal disaster occurred last night to the west bound emigrant train on the A., T. & S. F. railway, conductor, James Fuller. The engine and four cars crashed through a bridge three miles north of this city, killing the engineer, George Townsend, and the fireman, Winter Pavitt. The former was caught between the engine and a car and instantly killed. The latter was caught under a falling truck and was fearfully scalded. He lived and talked rationally for an hour after the accident, but could not be released. The bridge was a long structure, spanning an arroya which is usually dry, but a heavy rain sent down a flood of waters and washed out the bridge. Townsend was an Englishman and has a family in Kansas. Pavitt was an Irishman. None of the passengers were injured.

CHICAGO.

The Summer Trade Unusually Active.---Coming Dramatic Events.

CHICAGO, August 13.—Hooley's closes for a short time after this engagement of the O'Neal-Morrison company the end of which will be Monday. "The World" has done a phenomenal summer business at McVicker's and remains another week or two. Haverley's is so nearly completed that his plans for opening are matured. It will be opened September 10th, with a brilliant programme whose contents are kept secret. On the 12th Robson and Crane begin the first regular engagement. "The Mascotte" has been given at the Grand Opera all the week and it is highly spoken of as a comic opera. Lewis Morrison and Forrest Robinson go from here to join "Legion of Honor" company. O'Neill begins his engagement as "Deacon Crockett."

The good steady summer weather has not affected general trade the past week except to make it unusually active for August. There was a more noticeable falling off in business in the country than in the city and the purchases are largely made by mail. Toward the close of the week fears of drouth caused some slack in business from outside account.

Clearings for the week are 44,000,000 a heavy increase partially due to the corner on wheat. The prevailing tendency of the board of trade has been bullish but during the week there have been several declines which are variously credited to the gathering of clouds, to the increased receipts, to the unfavorable advices from the east and to manipulations to shake out weak holders. Yesterday and to-day however there was a stiffening up of prices all along the line and the advance in grain was attended with great excitement at times. No failures were reported during the session of the board and it seems to be settled that the shaky ones have become so thoroughly impressed with the idea of high prices that they have gotten out of the deal and climbed on the other side, or that they are for the time being standing off and waiting for time to direct their movements. Some very heavy operators are short on the markets, and have blown in large sums of money to satisfy their shortage, but there seems to be no limit at present to the calls for the clique, and to-day's developments were more startling to the bears than any move yet. Reports from farming sections are almost invariably unfavorable at present.

The heat which has ranged from 90 to 100 in the shade in the northwest with some little intermission for a month past, is shriveling the corn and drying the soil, and prospects look dubious to the never too sanguine farmer. The speculators were more conservative in their views as a rule, but they are swiftly and unanimously adopting the opinion of short crops which is held by the most persistent bulls. Within the week opinions on change have experienced very decided modifications. Many who were bears are now sure of higher prices.

The St. Louis Scandal.

ST. LOUIS August 13. John M. Amweg, jr., the young chorus singer of Ford's comic opera troupe who was one of the principal actors in what is called the Hazeltine social scandal which was developed here some days ago, filed a suit for civil damages in the sum of $10,000 against Wm. B. Hazeltine, jr. and E. W. Paramoure for enticing him into a room and there brutally beating him and forcing him to sign certain papers, and to give up certain letters and photographs against his will.

Discussing the Land Bill.

LONDON, August 13.—The reasons stated by the committee of the house of lords for disagreeing with the commons on amendment to the land bill are mostly paraphrase arguments. In the debates on the amendment limiting the amount of compensation for disturbance, the proposed scale by which it shall in no case exceed £500 relative to Parnell's amendment providing for suspension proceedings against tenants. They declare it would be unjust to creditors to postpone the recovery of just debts.

Mining Stocks Active.

NEW YORK, August 13.—Prince and Whitely's mining circular says there has been a conspicuous revival of interest in the mining market during the past week owing to the improvement in State Line and Oriental and Miller stocks. There is a genuine feeling of cheerfulness over the present outlook, and still greater improvement in prices during the approaching week is looked for. There is an unusual monotony in the reports from the various mines, but such as are received are favorable without affording great promise in any particular case.

Would not Confess.

DENVER, August 13.—A fruitless effort was to-day made to induce H. M. Burton, the stage robber, to confess. He will probably be taken to Del Norte for trial.

The First Case.

DENVER, August 13.—The first case of the humane society was tried to-day. A man for horse beating was bound over to appear before the grand jury.

THE APACHES.

Advices from New Mexico Report them Still Plundering.

The People Called to Arms and the Soldiers Tired Out.

The Indian Office has a Word to Say.

LAS VEGAS, N. M., August 13.—The Evening Optic has the following concerning the Apaches: "McCarty, New Mexico, August 12, p. m. Couriers have just arrived here from Lasavoye ranch, forty miles from here, with the intelligence that they and Lieutenant Guilfoyle arrived there last night. They found two men dead and their women carried off captives. Lieutenant Guilfoyle has had two fights with the Indians recently, and has captured considerable stock, besides routing them. Troops are now in the field, and have been kept traveling day and night, and are very much worn out and fatigued. It is very evident that reinforcements and fresh troops are needed. Francisco Romn, of Cumbero, is here with a large party of Mexicans, but without arms, and asks the government to furnish him with arms and ammunition, that he may commence operations against the Indians at once. The hostiles are between Lasavoye and the Datil mountains. Troops are being sent from Monica and Averi to intercept them. It is thought that Taylor mountain is an objective point for the savages. If they go that far north, the probabilities are that they will never be able to return to the Mexican border."

DENVER, August 13.—A special from Santa Fe says: Advices from below are that the situation is more serious than ever before, as regards the outbreaks of the Mescaleros Apaches. The Indians are raiding the country in small bands, and it is utterly impossible for the troops to come up with them. Reports of murders and depredations committed by them upon isolated communities come in every day, and there is no telling the damage they have done or the number of lives lost since they have been in the field. The supply of troops is utterly unequal to the emergency. General Hatch is in the field notifying the people to arm and informing them of the movements of the Indians as far as known. He has received a dispatch from F. W. Smith, superintendent of the Atlantic & Pacific railroad, stating that three men and four boys were murdered at or near El Rito, three days ago. Similar announcements are coming in all the time. Two prospectors were killed by the Indians in Florida mountains, and a number near Guadalupe mountains. The miners keep in camp for fear of the Indians. There is the greatest apprehension all over the country, and unless more troops are ordered to the district, there is no immediate prospect for bettering the outlook.

The New Mexican special from Albuquerque says: "The volunteers from this city have returned home being relieved by troops from Fort Wingate, who are posted at McCarty's and other stations on the line of the Atlantic & Pacific railroad where the hostiles are likely to cross. When the volunteers left Lieutenants Guilfoyle and Wright were at La Saveilo, forty miles from McCarty's, and Captain Parker was at Alamosa. Lieutenant Thomas had a brush with the hostiles and captured some stock. Captain McArthur was at McCarty's. The Indians were expected to attempt to cross at Cubero to-day. Major Ingalls and Captain Schaefer, with their command of volunteers and others from El Rito, and Laguna, are co-operating with the troops, and it is hoped they will be able to surround and capture the hostiles. The soldiers have traveled night and day, and the men and horses are worn out."

THE INDIAN OFFICE EXPLAINS.

NEW YORK, August 13. The Herald's Washington special says: The Indian office has received a statement from an agent of the Mescalero Apaches at Fort Stanton to the effect that the Indians who have been on the warpath in New Mexico are a party sent out to Mexico some time ago to bring in their friends who have been with Victorio. These, while on their return and accompanied by a number of Victorio's people, were twice attacked by military forces and Indian scouts, and quite a number of them were killed and the remainder despairing of being able to reach the agency fled to the mountains and took to the warpath as the only course which seemed open to them. The agent is an officer of the army and is supposed to have reliable information. The returning party when attacked were supposed to be on the warpath and they had nearly reached the reservation when the attack was renewed.

CHRONIC GRUMBLERS.

The Denver Tabors Claim that Injustice was Done them at the Tourhament.

Yesterday's Denver Republican contained the following communication from the members of the Tabor Hose company, of that city, in which it would appear that they had not been fairly dealt with here. They seem to labor under the impression that they were only awarded one prize when they fairly won three:

In the plug contest of the Colorado Springs tournament, we, the members of the Tabor hose team, claimed water through the butt in 33¾ seconds, but, unfortunately, the nozzle was blown off, for which we blame no one but ourselves; if we had got the nozzle on the judge might have condescended to give us 40 seconds. In the dry-test the boys made tight couplings according to rule, and the time given in by the time-keepers was as follows: George Duggan, 35¾ seconds; B. F. Crowell, 36¾ seconds; C. E. Wyman, 37¾ seconds. Mr. Duggan had the correct time, as he caught it when the nozzle was screwed up; Mr. Crowell took the time when the nozzle was handed to the judge, and Mr. Wyman had to walk around the crowd before he took time. They announced the time as 38¾ seconds, which, had justice been done, the team should have been 35¾ seconds. The time given the Humphreys, who took the first prize, according to the time, was 35¾, 36¾, and 37 seconds. The average should have been 36½ seconds, but was given at 36¾ seconds, without their pipe being screwed up. This was by Judge Walker, of Colorado Springs, but was not heeded by the majority of the judges, and the time was given as above.

The boys handed in a protest to the judges, which was acted upon the following evening until 12 o'clock, without deciding whether a catch coupling was correct or whether it should be a tight coupling. It was then referred to Captain J. T. Smith, who decided that a catch coupling was sufficient.

In the 1,000 feet race all the members started at the word "go," Mr. Purple coming in ahead, Mr. Dixon second and Austin Banks third. C. M. Pendegast, of Hooks 2, was outscored and did not come through, consequently the race was declared off.

In the straightaway race the Denver Tabors made 23½ seconds, which was not beaten by any hose team until Wyman's favorites ran. The time of the time-keepers was 23, 23½ and 24½ seconds, which averages 23⅓ seconds, but was allowed 23¼ seconds, which gave them second money.

The boys were well treated by the Colorado Springs department, and they also tender the thanks of the team to the members of Hooks 2 for the courtesies extended them on their return to Denver.

MISS ANNA EVA FAY.

An Evening's Seance At the Opera House.

The following is an extract from the Omaha News on Miss Annie Eva Fay who will appear at the opera house to-night:

Judging from the large and appreciative audience which filled the academy last evening, spiritualism is far from being defunct in Omaha. And, it is but fair to add, that whether "spirits" assisted or not, the extraordinary "manifestations" of the celebrated Annie Eva Fay, as well as the tests of Prof. Braddon were, to say at least, very clever indeed. In fact, so successful were the mediums, that the spiritualists were exultant, the unbelievers non-plused, the indifferent highly amused and entertained for a couple of hours most satisfactorily. Some of the results produced were really wonderful. In one instance, especially, where the medium sits in plain view upon the stage in front of the cabinet and produces most unaccountable demonstrations within the charmed inclosure after it has been critically examined by judges selected from the audience, and was also closely watched during the continuance of the manifestations. The "communications" obtained, several of which were read to the audience and recognized by friends of the "departed," were also the cause of much speculation, and to the spiritualists quite conclusive as to the genuineness of the medium. But we are compelled to omit further details. Hon. John I. Redic, Hon. Alf D. Jones and Judge Loville acted as the committee, examining every movement and property with the closest scrutiny but failing to detect the slightest fraud.

On the stage Miss Fay is a charming little lady, bright, attractive, intelligent, and abounding in vitality, of a slight figure, with a temperament easily classed as nervous and possessed of that culture, acquired only by extensive travel and association with those who tread the higher walks of life, while in her profession she is certainly par excellence.

An Asiatic Hero.

NEW YORK, August 13.—The Tribune says: There can be little doubt that the order for the return of the Chinese students is due to the deposition from the power of Prince Lia and the dominant influence at Pekin of General Tro Lsang Tang, who is now minister of war, and what is more to the purpose the popular idol. With an enormous and victorious army to back him, which has been drilled and equipped under his personal supervision in a manner totally without precedent in the history of China, this remarkable man is exercising as powerful an influence over the present Asiatic policy as Cromwell did in England or Napoleon in France.

BLAINE COMPLIMENTED.

Crazy Talk of the Socialists Excited by the Hartmann Affair.

CHICAGO, August 13.—Secretary Blaine has been complimented, says a Boston special, by the socialists and advanced labor reformers who last night adopted resolutions that he was worse than Guiteau; that he was born in revolution, sedition and rebellion, and should aid all struggling for liberty abroad. Dr. Swan, the original sand lot orator, was present and spoke of Blaine's letter regarding the extradition of Hartmann. This was the red rag which excited them.

Street Cars for Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, August 13.—President Kemble, of the Philadelphia Union Passenger Railway company, expects within a year to solve the question of street car transportation. He declares that if he does not run cars with electricity he will run them with wire rope. The latter system is successful in San Francisco and now undergoing trial in Chicago. Kemble is looking with a considerable degree of hope and confidence to this experiment.

Dean Stanley in Boston

The Rev. E. E. Hale in the Christian Union

"What do you want to see?" said a friend to Dean Stanley when he landed in Boston. "Do you want to see people or institutions or every-day life?" Stanley laughed and said, "The old historical madness has broken out! I want to see history. Show me the Old Elm on Boston Common." "I know it is blown down but I want to see where it was. Show me anything which carries a reminiscence of Washington." He said his first business was to get a bird's-eye view of the scene, that he might be sure of his topography, and accordingly he asked, first of all, to go to the top of the state house, an achievement from which in his eighty-second year, volunteer men ask to be excused. But Stanley, who has visit to Boston ended, reported the account that he might say he had seen it. The old little antiquities of Trinity Church, which his guide, will not readily forget the alacrity with which the historian sped up the stairs before him.

Tell me what was the end of the federal party, he said to a puzzled young fellow of this generation—who could only repeat the question with a shudder. "Tell me where Roger Williams was buried—and so on." His which manner with complete simplicity showed how thoroughly he was conversant with the history of the land he travelled through and how eager he was to improve his knowledge even in detail. History was not history to him unless he saw the picture as a bystander might do.

A Professor's Predicament

Albany Argus

A well known professor of Union college who is making a trip to Iowa, recently turned to look at some land with a farmer. Reaching a creek the professor placed his garments on his wagon and swam over while the farmer tried to drive over. The current carried the wagon down stream with the professor's clothing, his watch $125 in money and some drafts. They were all swept away and lost. The professor was left entirely naked, borrowed his companion's pants and walked sixteen miles before he obtained a coat and shirt.

Romance of a Summer Resort

New Haven Palladium

Among the visitors at a small hotel near Fairhaven Springs, Greenbrier county, West Virginia, was James S. Porter, a young man whose wealthy parents live in Boston. Porter had been roughing it in the mountains since the latter part of May. One of the first objects to catch his eye was a mountain lass, who lived two miles or more from the hotel. The young people became acquainted casually, but the girl's brown checks and possibly brown ankles were too much for Porter, and he visited the house of his sweetheart time and again. Unfortunately for the youth his knowledge of his sweetheart's family extended to her mother, an old lady whose fable and specialties were her Sunday companions year in and out, to such a degree that he was a gambler. The girl's father, the belle of Porter, and in the face of her mother's opposition she continued to receive her lover's attentions. Last week she agreed to quit her home with Porter and to accompany him as his wife to Boston. They left the girl's house together on foot, and took a wagon quarter of a mile down the road. When they had started the father missed his daughter, he set out in hot haste and in anger to stop the runaways. He came upon them at a point where the road was steep and rocky, and when they whipped up their horses he gave his animal such a furious cut that he was thrown from his wagon down the mountain side. The mad horse ran past the lovers, and they knew that their pursuer had been injured. They went back found him, took him home and restored him to consciousness. Subsequently the young man won the confidence of the mountaineer couple and they gave their consent to the marriage.

DAILY GAZETTE.

HOME ART.

A Visit to the Studio of Mr. Harvey Young.

A representative of the GAZETTE took occasion yesterday to visit the studio of Mr. Harvey Young in Union Block. Mr. Young was found seated in his easel engaged in painting a character sketch of Pueblo Indian life while surrounding him on all sides were unfinished and unfinished pictures of Mexican and Indian scenes. Mr. Young has but recently returned from New Mexico where he spent a month of more sketching. While there he gave his attention more especially to the study of figures and scenes that have never heretofore demanded the recognition of either American or foreign artists. In the past Mr. Young has given his time almost exclusively to landscape painting and his venture on figures is one that as bound to succeed, judging from the excellent work that is now on exhibition in his studio. The first picture brought to the attention of the reporter was that of a Mexican court scene in the ancient city of Santa Fe. It represented the rear end of an adobe dwelling with a characteristic Mexican porch protruding under which is gathered a group of Mexican women engaged in rolling and baking their favorite tortillas. The scene is one that will leave a startling impression on one and all and it is an exact picture of every day life as seen by the traveller in New Mexico. The next picture shown was a moonlight scene in Pueblo San Juan. In the foreground a group of burros stood in various attitudes, some eating and others apparently stooping while near them were gathered several small Indian children wrapped in drivers colored blankets. In the background was the squalid adobe home and far in the distance the snow capped peak of the Sangre de Cristo range. This is one of the most attractive paintings of the whole collection, and is bound to command the attention of the critics when placed upon exhibition in the galleries of Boston and New York. Among others worthy of notice is a landscape scene on one of the tributary creeks of the Rio Grande river. Sierra blanca crowns its history in all in the back ground while in the foreground is the dense foliage of the creek bottom will more prominent than all a prairie schooner drawn by a team of rugged out horses.

Mr. Young is now working on a picture which represents the entrance to an estufa in the city of Taos.

SCHUYLER COLFAX.

He Pays a Noble Tribute to President Garfield Yesterday.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., August 13.—This is national day at Chautauqua, and General Howard, commander of West Point, presided over the platform meetings. Dr. Vincent read letters from Robert T. Lincoln, secretary of war, and ex-President Hayes, and read an address made by President Garfield at this place a year ago. The reading was tumultuously applauded. The orator of the day, Schuyler Colfax, in a prelude to his lecture on Abraham Lincoln, said he knew as he spoke to them that their hearts would be turning toward him who for six long and weary weeks had suffered so uncomplainingly and so bravely on his bed of pain and peril at Washington. Wicked as was that fearful shot it united all parties, all creeds and all sections in one land. More than this, it has taught us more of our president than we ever knew before. We see him facing death with more than the coolness of a veteran, even on the afternoon of the day he was shot saying to his physicians, "God's will be done. If my time has come I am ready to go."—But I believe God intends to answer a nation's prayers and save him for his nation and for mankind as well as for the noble wife who nursed him back into life from death's door, who now ministers to him so bravely. I know these thousands join with me and with millions all over the republic in the prayer, 'God save the president.'"

NEW YORK:

Merchants Work Day Time and See Coney Island at Night---Merchandise Markets Improved.

NEW YORK, August 13.—The Commercial Bulletin says that an unusually large number of merchants and traders and speculators are at or near by the seaside, the daily list of arrivals indicating the presence of what may be considered representative men from all lead ing commercial centers of the country. This has been the case the greater part of the summer, so much so that it has been a common observation that Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, St. Louis, Minnesota, Iowa and others transferred themselves to Coney Island, Long Branch, Rockaway and other places within easy distance of the city. In this way it has been quite possible to combine business with recreation and to this fact quite as much as anything else we are inclined to think must be attributed the steady trade which has been transacted in many wholesale lines throughout the summer. Merchants can visit the city during business hours and return to the shores of the ocean in the evening.

MERCHANDISE MORE ACTIVE.

NEW YORK, August 13.—During the past week there has been considerable improvement noted in the general merchandise markets, and prices in most commodities are firmer and in some instances higher. The present rates of freight by all routes has been the principal factor in this improvement, and prospects of a full autumn trade are very flattering.

French Politics

PARIS, August 13.—Brisson, probably the successor of Gambetta as president of the Chamber of Deputies, has declared for abolition of senate scrutin, projects of the clergy and election of the magistracy by universal suffrage.

THE ILLINOIS CROPS.

A Falling Off This Year From Various Causes.

SPRINGFIELD, August 13.—Partial returns received at the department of agriculture to this date concerning the fall wheat crop confirm previous reports published by Secretary Fisher. The results of the finishing—have reduced the average prospective yield in some counties and increased it in others. Sixty counties heard from produced in 1880 [illegible] bushels of fall wheat against 11,448,606 bushels of this season, a reduction of 59 per cent when compared with the yield of the previous year. Fifty forty five counties produced last season 21,217,450 bushels and if these counties have the same proportionate yield this season the crop therein will make 8,705,711 bushels, making the entire winter wheat crop of the state for the year 1881, about 22,153,279 bushels against 34,000,000 last year. The past severe winter has damaged a large proportion of the wheat and the Hessian fly and the chinch bug destroyed crops in some localities and what that was not winter killed.

Heavy Rain in Virginia.

PETERSBURG, Va., August 14.—This city and the immediate vicinity was visited this evening by one of the severest and most destructive wind and thunder storms experienced here for years. The rain fell in torrents while some places it is estimated that the wind blew sixty miles an hour. Several horses, persons and houses were struck by lightning. Crops injured. Thermometer before the storm 100.

Dr. Eliza Foster Stillman,

OF CHICAGO,

Is now at Miss Grimes', corner of Cascade and Pike's Peak aves., Office hours from 9 to 12.

Her miraculous healing power and marvelous diagnosis are attested to by many eminent persons.

Dr. Stillman's magnetic remedies are efficacious where all other treatment fails, giving marked relief in acute suffering, and permanent cure of chronic diseases.

FROM PRESIDENT GARFIELD.

WASHINGTON, June 26, 1874.

Dear Madam—I take pleasure in testifying to the skill and success with which you treat medical questions. I have received very marked benefits from your treatment. Very truly yours, J. A. GARFIELD.

FROM JOHN PLATT.

"Out of the hundreds of cases treated by you while in this city I did not hear of one—I certainly did not meet with one—failure."

FROM GRACE GREENWOOD.

I am happy to be able to add my testimony to the marvelous—I had almost written miraculous—healing power of Dr. Eliza F. Stillman. She actually seems to have no nonsense in the matter, but an ardent desire to relieve suffering through the strange power which she believes a direct gift from the Divine Healer, the Great Physician. GRACE GREENWOOD.

MANITOU SPRINGS, Colo., June 22, 1881.

Dr. E. F. Stillman—Dear Madam:

I had been suffering from some unknown malady—the cause and cure for which has baffled all the physicians whom I have consulted—since the first of January last. I consulted an eminent physician of Denver, Colo., who decided I was suffering from inflammation of the spinal marrow; and who advised that I undergo a painful operation—which fortunately I refused to do. I have spent my time and money during that period without obtaining relief, and growing steadily worse all the time. By the use of your remedies I have obtained greater relief than I am able to express to you. The inexpressible happiness I feel in being restored to a normal condition, and my freedom from pain, induce me to give you this acknowledgment in the hope that others suffering from great maladies may avail themselves of your assistance. One of the marvelous features of your treatment, and one which has astonished me greatly, is the simplicity of your remedies; and had I not witnessed and experienced their operations I would not have believed such good results could have followed the use of remedies so simple and so utterly harmless. Truly yours, MRS. DECKER.

Mrs. Decker is a sister of Mrs. F. W. Beebee, the proprietress of the well known hotel, Beebee House, Manitou Springs. Dr. Stillman has other strong testimonials from prominent residents of Colorado Springs.
